

PROJECT WORKS

Over the years, Mun Siong Engineering has been providing project execution solutions in various arrangements ranging from either Construction Implementation for large scale projects to Engineering, Procurement, Construction and/or Management (EPC/EPCM) for smaller scale projects for Oil & Gas, Petroleum/Petrochemical and other Process-based industries. As an established service provider, we define it by doing what it takes in delivering projects that meet your requirements and to ensure that your project is a success. We have the capability to offer full turnkey services with proven track record on Safety, Quality, Cost effectiveness and On-time delivery, to meet your specific operating requirements.

Project Services

Our services include undertaking EPC projects with the provision and/or management of all other required supporting specialised services such as Civil Works, Scaffolding Works, Surfacing Preparation (Blasting) & Coating (Painting/GRE Wrapping/TFA/Galvanizing), Insulation & Packing, Non-Destructive Examinations (NDE), to cater for the execution of the following types of work as listed below:

- Design, Fabrication and Erection of Steel Structures
- Design, Prefabrication & Installation of Piping Works
- Installation of Static & Rotating Equipment
- Construction of Storage Tanks
- Design, Prefabrication of Pre-Assembled Modules (PAM), Skids
- Design, Site Installation of Electrical & Instrumentation Works
- Construction Management & Commissioning Assistance of Plants, Refineries

Experience

Mun Siong has the experience and expertise in undertaking project works ranging from major equipment replacement, building new refining and chemical facilities, to plant expansions and modernizations. We have a team of highly experienced and competent professionals, who have undertaken major projects and have wealth of experience working in various types of site conditions and client arrangements. They are always ready to meet the most demanding requirements, proactively anticipate, identify and resolve potential challenges in order to supply the Turnkey solutions expected. Our flexibility and ability to produce timely deliveries are ensured by allocating experienced resources to manage our customers' projects.

